POETRY.

A modest purple little flower 25
All flashes on me now 108
Afar in the desert I love to ride 115
Again thy winds are pealing in mine ear 188
Again, again she comes 203
A monk, when his rites sacerdotal were o'er 227
A man who had no rivals 246
A star has left the kindling sky 282
A nobler nature, linked with sweeter name 319
At our statelier homes 362
An anthem like the sound of many waters 363
A sprightly youth and maiden gay 368
Awake the song of peace 379
Blow, warder, blow thy brazen horn 39
Blest river I leave thee in sorrow to roam 96
Bright flowers are sinking 102
Bend on your oars for the sky it is dark 113
Blest land of Judea 147
Before the graces you disclose 324
Blest was thy ancestor with deathless fame 247
Cork, May the sixth, year ninety-four 16
Come, while the planets are shedding their light 56
Come back from memory's mourning urn 64
Charter oak, charter oak 233
Drink wine, my boys, drink rosy wine 6
Departed one farewell 59
Dear lady, all of loveliness and good 158
Droop not, brothers 236
Do I not love thee 274
Do you remember Mary 288
Dear Tom, if you would learn the way 366
Fresh in the morning is the living breeze 28
For ever gone, I am alone, alone 187
Fair and fair, and twice so fair 237
Forget me not 274
Fables for authors 314
Fled is the dream so fondly nursed 326
Fountain, that springest on this grassy slope 339
First of May, clear the way 350
Few columns rose when Rome was free 350
Gentlest and dearest dost thou love me still 60
Gentle waves upon the deep 232
Good day, my lords 300
Go leave that harp 300
Go, my messenger dove 316
Go, and forget that we have met 332
How happy are they who can find in reflection 30
Hillo, what, where, what can it be 35
How com'st thou by those gauds 72
His young bride stood beside his bed 75
How! paint Julia in colours 76
Hail sovereign of the world of floods 83
Hark while the ship is swinging 98
Here's to the land of the brave and the free 104
Hail to the merry autumn days 122
Her mind is gentle 168
Her eyes were like the sapphire of deep air 186
Haste, boatman, haste 280
Here's to thee my Scottish lassie 291
Hear me, Oh! hear now 353
How now, Pedrillo 372
How pleasant the life of a lord must be 385
How strange it is, so opposite a fate 199
He talked of daggers and of darts 222
How oft amid the sordid strife 259
It is not a light grief 11
If she's cold why complain 12
Into the silent land 16
I will not pluck thee from thy parent tree 37
I was born away down at Bangor 50
It is the dignity 67
I'm not a chicken I have seen 90
I'll give you a scotch my dear aunt 106
Just heaven, how fallen utterly our race is 138
I've looked on many a scene 139
I slew the chief of the Muskokee 158
I love thee, nature, I love thee well 163
I have money 171
I heard a sick man's dying sigh 209
It was deep midnight and the stars shone bright 217
I've frolicked a youngling 218
I mind me of a pleasant time 242
I wander by the brook's side 243
I feel them with their rustling pinions sweeping 283
I'm not a marrying man 290
In days of yore 296
I've heard that while Jove 297
I mind me of the happy hours 304
I've set my heart upon nothing 307
In slumbers deep the father lay 221
It was a gallant ship wherein I rode 328
Ivy is a bird 330
I had a home, where the weariest feet 363
In the young merry time of spring 371
Is there an unbeliever 387
I saw her on the vessel's deck 332
In a parlour gay on a summer day 336
It bursts upon my raptured sight 340
I knew her by her angry air 363
Little cupid one day 34
Light and smoothly our gondolas move 39
List to the dreamy tone that dwells 75
Love fills a blissful measure 254
Lady of England o'er the seas 380
My soul is drunk with gazing on his face 46
The watch-light of the lovers streamed 17
To thee most high the poet turns 15
Tell me thou ancient mariner 31
Here side by side the sainted three 55
There lived in Florence centuries ago 70
They kneel round the altar, the organ 74
The Rhine, the Rhine 86
There is a fearful spirit busy now 81
The northern wind hath blown 101
The deep affections of the breast 114
Thanks, there's no delusion here 112
The dark earth drinks the heavens refreshing 124
'Tis night, she sits alone 159
The voice of spring 144
'Twas night in the woodlands alone 148
They tell me gentle lady 149
Why, why such pressing haste, dear Charles 4
What! is it not the Lord Bernam, help 5
Wake, lady wake, the crescent moon 8
What in form she was 40
When Eve brought woe to all mankind 42
We are but two, the others sleep 43
Why dost thou come at set of sun 44
What's in a name 68
We met last June at Rockaway 124
Wan visaged thing 129
Wearies my love of my letters 132
Who rides so late through the darkness wild 139
When the fiends are round thee 156
Where is now my peace of mind 164
Where the ivy vine is creeping 248
Write to serve a friend your name 384
